Think
GLOBAL WOMEN

Join us for a Think Global Women webinar to inspire women in international roles to embrace their next career challenge.

Find out why you should embrace your next international role for yourself and your team and how to do it.

Wherever you are in your career journey, whether you feel ready to take on your first management role or are considering moving into a more senior leadership position or need to move your team to the next level, or if you have taken some time out and are preparing to take up your career again, learn how you can take charge of your next steps.

Explore with an expert how to identify where you want to go next, the challenges you will face and how to overcome them.

Join the webinar for a lively discussion, tips and ideas and come away with an action plan:

- How to grow as leader
- Returning to work after a career break
- Stepping up to a new role
- Supporting your team

Although the focus of the webinar is on women in career transition, men are welcome!

Duration: 45 minutes followed by Q&A
